Chief Judge Castillo Welcomes Attorneys and Community Members to Courthouse for Panel on Voting Rights

January 31, 2018 - Noting the importance of elections to the courts and the historically significant voting rights cases that have been litigated in this court, Chief Judge Rubén Castillo welcomed to the courthouse attorneys and community members participating in a multi-part continuing legal education series on voting rights. Today's panel discussion, entitled "Are the Polls Open to All?" featured Nicole Austin-Hillery, Director and Counsel, Washington D.C. Office, Brennan Center for Justice at NYU School of Law; Justin Levitt, Professor of Law & Associate Dean for Research, Loyola Law School; Wendy Underhill, Program Director, Elections and Redistricting, National Conference of State Legislature; and Ami Gandhi, Director of Voting Rotes and Civic Empowerment, Chicago Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights. The Panel is presented by the Seventh Circuit Bar Association Diversity and Inclusion Committee.
